

Sadly, we cannot stop our pets from getting older but although inevitable, pet owners can help delay the signs of ageing by good management and regular health checks.

Ageing begins at birth, but its manifestations are not noticeable for several years. The average dog is classed as senior at 7 years old although some breeds of dogs become senior at 5 years whereas others are closer to 9 years old.

Advances in veterinary medicines and diet allow your veterinary practice to provide your pet with up-to-date treatments and preventative healthcare ensuring comfortable and pain free senior years.

SENIOR DOG HEALTH CHECK-UP

Early detection of deteriorating health could give your dog an improved quality of life now, and in the future.
